

Explore the New Wetlands Park Trails

Clark County Parks and Recreation has been hard at work during the past several months installing several miles of multi-use trails throughout the Clark County Wetlands Park. The Sunrise Mountain Trailhead, at the southern end of Hollywood Boulevard, provides the best access point, with trails extending west to the Clark County Nature Preserve and east towards Lake Las Vegas. The network of trails includes more than seven miles of asphalt, making for an ideal bike path that eventually connects to the River Mountains Loop Trail. The trailhead also includes a staging area for loading and unloading horses for equestrian use.

Construction also concluded on the Duck Creek Trailhead near Sam Boyd Stadium. The updated trailhead includes a completely redesigned parking area to allow easier access. The area also includes water fountains, shaded picnic structures and bathrooms. Trails from this area provide access to the Clark County In-Lieu Fee Wetland Mitigation Ponds which are excellent for bird watching. More»

Historic Milk House is Dedicated at Museum

The historic milk house, originally discovered at the Las Vegas Wash, finished its journey to the Clark County Heritage Museum on Nov. 16, 2013 with an official dedication ceremony. The event was paired with the dedication of the newly renovated railroad cottage and was presided over by Council Woman Mary Beth Scow. See photos from the event»

Construction on Three Kids Weir begins

Construction of one of the largest weir projects has officially begun! The Three Kids Weir will replace the Demonstration Weir which was constructed in 1999. Once completed, the new weir will include a 17-foot gradient and 5,000 feet of additional bank protection. The project is expected to finish in the spring of 2015. More»
